

In this version, we have expanded the experimental analysis on task effectiveness, incorporating human evaluations, SFT training across diverse model families and scales, and comparisons with state-of-the-art approaches. We have also addressed previous issues related to writing quality and image presentation. Furthermore, additional supplementary materials have been provided to enhance reproducibility as much as possible.