

We thank the reviewers and meta-reviewer for their thoughtful and constructive feedback. As noted in the meta-review, no major revisions were requested, and the overall assessment was positive, with agreement on the novelty and usefulness of our analysis of non-verbal cues in speech foundation models.

In this resubmission, we have incorporated the suggested minor revisions to improve clarity, methodology description, and presentation quality. We believe these changes further strengthen the paper and address all reviewer concerns.